

UNITED STATES TO HALT MOVEMENTS

Is Determined Mexican Revolutionary Elements
Shall Not Be Augmented

WATCH LEADERS CLOSELY

Position Leads to Huerta's Arrest and Strict Surveillance
On Other Mexicans

ANGELES STARTS FOR CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The United States government has determined that, so far as it can prevent, there shall be no further revolutionary movements in Mexico and that American territory at any rate shall not be used as a base for such expeditions. This, it became known officially today led to the arrest of General Victoriano Huerta and General Pascual Orozco at El Paso and forms the ground for strict surveillance now being maintained by agents of the department of justice on Generals Felix Diaz, Mondragon Blanquet and Felipe Angeles and other Mexicans of prominence now living in the United States.

Assistant Attorney General Warren conferred today with Secretary Lansing, after which the intention of the government to prosecute vigorously all violations of neutrality laws, irrespective of the prominence of the individuals or their affiliations was revealed.

Four Separate Groups in U. S.—According to information thus far gathered, there are at least four separate and distinct groups, apart from the Villa and Carranza supporters, in the United States who are active politically in the Mexican situation. Whenever such activity shall reach the point of setting on foot a military expedition from the United States, arrests will follow, according to Mr. Warren, who is handling the case.

The information gathered by government agents discloses that the various groups have a common purpose in opposing Carranza and Villa, but are working independently of each other. Inquiry is being made to learn what financial interests are supporting the various factions and there are hints that citizens of one of the belligerent countries of Europe are involved in the plots.

Want No New Elements.—The position of the United States is that the revolutionary elements in Mexico should not be augmented and the situation further complicated by the addition of marauding armies which could hope to gain any degree of military supremacy only after prolonged fighting. Famine conditions and the devastations of the military factions already in the field are of such a threatening character that until the American government is able to see clearly what its own action should be, it is determined that no new elements be introduced into the situation.

At the department of justice today it was said that investigation was being made to learn whether General Angeles, Villa's right hand man, had any connection with the so-called Huerta plot and that some evidence seemed to connect him with it. Enrique C. Lorente, Washington representative of General Villa, announced later that after a long distance telephone conversation with General Angeles in Boston, the latter had started for Washington to call in person at the state department tomorrow and deny that he had any connection with the Huerta conspiracy.

Huerta Planned for Coup.—After looking over the evidence that has accumulated officials were inclined to the opinion that Huerta and his friends laid careful plans for a coup which was to be staged somewhere in northwestern Mexico, possibly in the next few days. It is not understood that there was to be any concerted movement of Huerta recruits across the Rio Grande at any one time, but they have been traveling that way for many weeks. Machine guns, ammunition and supplies necessary to any army have moved the same way and in the same direction. The surveillance kept on Huerta in all the months he has been living in apparent quiet near New York was not of a spectacular kind, but was so effective that department officials believe they have the threads of the plot in their hands and that within the next few days they will be able to apprehend other suspects.

Just how many recruits for the Huerta cause have been enlisted and sent to Mexico from the United States was not known today, but it was said that undoubtedly there had been several hundred.

WAS STABBED IN BACK.

Harry Smith, a stranger who dropped into town was cut in the back by a razor in the hands of Harry Wells, it is said. The cutting took place about 6:30 Monday night, as the result of a wordy conversation. Dr. Allen King gave the necessary medical attention.

THAW IS DESCRIBED AS SANE AND RATIONAL

TWO MEMBERS OF COMMISSION
NAMED BY U. S. COURT TESTIFY

Dr. Bancroft, Appearing as an Expert Alienist Says Thaw Seemed to Have Been a Spoiled Child, Brought Up Without Discipline and Given His Own Way Too Much.

New York, June 28.—Harry K. Thaw was described as sane and rational today by two members of the federal commission, which was appointed by the United States court in New Hampshire to determine whether he should be allowed his liberty under bail during the extradition proceedings to bring him back from that state to New York. They were General Frank S. Streeter of Concord, N. J., chairman of the commission, and Dr. Charles P. Bancroft, superintendent of the New Hampshire state hospital for the insane at Manchester.

Dr. Bancroft Testifies.—Dr. Bancroft, testifying as an expert alienist, said that he had examined Thaw both mentally and physically over a period of three weeks and had tested his mental condition "for reaction from every possible angle."

He said that the members of the commission had gone over in detail with Thaw all the circumstances of his life and had omitted no topic which might bring to the surface the delusion from which the state alleges Thaw was suffering at the time he shot Stanford White, and still is—that he was "divinely appointed the protector of American girlhood."

Found Him Perfectly Sane.

"We found him perfectly sane and rational," said Dr. Bancroft. He said on cross-examination that a true paranoiac, such as the state charges Thaw to be, might for a time submerge his delusion so as to defy the tests of the most expert alienists but did not think that this could be done for more than two or three months. It was bound to appear after awhile. Counsel for the state cited to him a case in the New York insane asylum where a paranoiac has successfully concealed his delusion for a year and a half and gained his discharge as a sane man. On the night of his release, said the attorney, he went home and killed his sister-in-law with an axe. Dr. Bancroft said he had not heard of the case.

The witness said he had not given "a great deal of weight" to testimony in previous Thaw proceedings before him to the effect that various of Thaw's relatives had the taint of insanity. He had not observed that Thaw in his childhood was given to violent outbursts, though he appeared to have been excitable in his temperament, he said.

Seemed to Have Been Spoiled Child.—"He seemed to have been a spoiled child," said the witness. "Like children of the rich, he was brought up without discipline, given his own way too much and lacked occupation—circumstances that lead to failure."

He did not find, he said, that Thaw was morally perverted.

General Streeter, giving his opinion as a lay member of the commission, said that Thaw acted in a perfectly normal way, both while he was being examined and at a social occasion arranged to test his social reaction.

Thaw, he said, had expressed regret for the killing of Stanford White and had said he had made a mistake in idolizing Evelyn Nesbit.

FORMER JACKSONVILLE YOUTH COMMITTS SUICIDE IN ROCKFORD

George Zeppenfeld Takes Own Life—Remains Will be Brought Here for Burial.

Rockford, Ill., June 28.—George P. Zeppenfeld of Jacksonville, Ill., committed suicide here today by shooting himself in the Northwest railroad station. His father, Henry W. Zeppenfeld, arrived here evening from St. Charles, Ill., and identified the body. Despondency over financial affairs is supposed to have been the motive for the act.

Young Zeppenfeld removed all marks of identification from his clothing before he shot himself. Until three weeks ago he was employed at Peoria, Ill., but gave up his position to seek another.

Until a few years ago the Zeppenfeld family made their home in this city. Henry Zeppenfeld was for many years employed as a baker in this city and his brother Fred Zeppenfeld resides on South East street.

George Zeppenfeld was educated in the Jacksonville public schools and left this city a few years ago.

The remains will be brought to this city for burial.

ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY'S CONDITION MORE SERIOUS

Rochester N. Y., June 28.—Reports tonight from the bedside of the Rt. Rev. James E. Quigley, archbishop of Chicago, were that his condition was rapidly becoming more serious. Archbishop Quigley is at the home of his brother, Joseph M. Quigley, chief of police, of Rochester. A consultation of physicians was held in the afternoon and tonight it was necessary to hold another consultation.

U. S. ASKS GERMANY TO RECONSIDER REFUSAL

STATE DEPARTMENT MAKES NOTE
CONCERNING SHIP FRYE PUBLIC

Declares That Inasmuch as Germany Has Admitted Liability for Sinking Ship Prize Court Proceedings are Unnecessary.

Washington, June 28.—By agreement with the German foreign office the state department made public tonight the text of the note sent on June 24th, by the United States, asking Germany to reconsider refusal to settle by direct diplomatic negotiations, instead of by prize court proceedings, the claim presented on behalf of the captain and owners of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk with her cargo of wheat by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

Ambassador Gerard cabled that he had delivered the note last Saturday.

Prize Court Unnecessary.—The American government declares that inasmuch as Germany has admitted liability for the sinking of the Frye under the treaty of 1828, prize court proceedings are unnecessary and not binding upon the United States. Aside from the question the note brings out clearly the refusal of the United States to accept the contention that Germany has a right of how the indemnity should be paid to stop the carrying of contraband by American ships "by the destruction of the contraband and the ship carrying it."

While no mention of submarine warfare was made in either the last German note or present reply, occasion was taken to deny this right, because of a belief that admission of it now might in the future be used as a justification for submarine attacks on American ships.

Text of Note in Part.—The text of the note is in part as follows:

You state in your note of the 7th instant that Article 13 of the above mentioned treaty of 1799 "expressly reserves to the party at war the right to stop the carrying of contraband and to detain the contraband; it follows then that if it cannot be accomplished in any other way, the stopping of the supply may in the extreme case be effected by the destruction of the contraband and of the ship carrying it."

Can't Concur in Conclusion.—The government of the United States cannot concur in this conclusion. On the contrary, it holds that these treaty provisions do not authorize the destruction of a neutral vessel in any circumstances. By its express terms the treaty prohibits even the detention of a neutral vessel carrying contraband, if the master of the vessel is willing to surrender the contraband. Article 13 provides: "in the case supposed of a vessel stopped for articles of contraband, if the master of the vessel stopped will deliver out the goods supposed to be of contraband and if the vessel shall not in that case be carried into any port, nor further detained but shall be allowed to proceed on her voyage."

In this case the admitted facts show that pursuant to orders from the commander of the German cruiser, the master of the Frye undertook to throw overboard the cargo of the vessel but that before the work of delivering out the cargo was finished the vessel with the cargo was sunk by order of the German commander.

Conclusion Not Well Founded.—For these reasons, even if it be assumed as Your excellency has done, that the cargo was contraband, your contention that the destruction of the vessel was justified by the provisions of Article 13 does not seem to be well founded. The government of the United States has not thought it necessary in the discussion of this case to go into the question of the contraband or non-contraband character of the cargo. The imperial German government has admitted that this question makes no difference so far as its liability for damages is concerned and the result is the same so far as the justification for the sinking of the vessel is concerned. As shown above, if we assume that the cargo was contraband the master of the Frye should have been allowed to deliver it out and the vessel should have been allowed to proceed on her voyage.

On the other hand if we assume that the cargo was non-contraband, the destruction either of the cargo or the vessel could not be justified in the circumstances of this case under any accepted rule of international law.

It seems clear to the government of the United States therefore that whether the cargo of the Frye is regarded as contraband or as non-contraband, destruction of the vessel was, as stated in my previous communication on this subject "a violation of the obligations imposed upon the imperial German government under existing treaty stipulations between the United States and Prussia."

For these reasons the government of the United States must disagree with the contention which it understands is made by the imperial German government that an American vessel carrying contraband may be destroyed without liability or accountability beyond the payment of such compensation for damages as may be fixed by a German prize court. The issue thus presented arises on a disputed interpretation of treaty provisions, the settlement of which requires direct diplomatic discussion between the two governments and cannot be properly based upon the decision of the German prize court which is in no way conclusive or binding upon the government of the United States.

Dissents from View.—The government of the United States also dissents from the view expressed in your note that "there would be no foundation for a claim of the American government unless the prize courts should not grant indemnity in accordance with the treaty."

War News Summarized

With the Russian emperor on the Galician front, a new minister of war, General Polivanoff, in charge of Russian military affairs, and the grand duke's lines still intact, there is a general expectation that the Russian forces will yet strongly oppose the Austro-Germans, whose sweep along the southeastern part of Galicia continues.

The latest advices virtually agree that the Russian retreat has been an orderly one, although obliged to evacuate such important towns as Lemberg, Mikolaiow and Halicz, but this, it is intimated by Petrograd, has been for the purpose of seeking better defensive positions which the nature of the country further to the east affords.

So far as can be learned the Teutonic allies are not transferring any of their eastern forces to the western war zone, but are devoting all their men and strength to the Galician campaign and to further attempt to strike at Warsaw, the Polish capital.

In the western theater comparative calm prevails, no important gains or actions being reported by either side. The Italian war office has little to tell of the progress of events along the Austrian frontier, stating merely that there has been no important development along the entire front.

The French ministry of war reports that Italy has broken off diplomatic relations with Turkey and Italy will send troops to the Dardanelles, but official confirmation of this from Rome is lacking.

NEW BUILDING NEAR THE BURLINGTON STATION

Will be Occupied by Hamilton's Barber Shop and Cannon's Lunch Room.

A building is to be erected on the Mathers lot on East State street, one room of which will be occupied by George W. Hamilton with his barber shop while the other will be occupied by G. C. Cannon with a lunch room. The building will be 28 x 34 feet and one story in height.

Mr. Hamilton has had a shop for many years in that vicinity. Formerly he occupied the room on Illinois avenue just south of the Kellogg lunch room and for several years he had been located in the Burlington passenger station.

Several weeks ago Burlington officials who visited Jacksonville declared that it did not look well to have a barber shop in the depot building and subsequently Mr. Hamilton was notified to vacate. E. F. Mitchell agent for the Burlington, secured an extension of time and since then Mr. Hamilton has been looking for new quarters. W. B. Miser offered to fix up a room for him in the Street Railway Co's. building but it was decided that the location on the Mathers lot would be the most advantageous. The new building will be located just west of the East State street entrance to the Burlington yards and the work of clearing the ground has already commenced.

REFUSES TO FORWARD MAILS.

Washington, June 28.—In a verbal note presented at the state department today the Italian embassy asserted that the Austro-Hungarian postal authorities had refused to receive and forward mails from the Holy See, even when bearing the official seal of the cardinal secretary of state.

DIFFERENCES OF OPINION CONTINUE.

Boston, June 28.—Differences of opinion regarding plans for a conference of representative Jews of this country to formulate demands for civil rights for their people in all lands continued through the sessions of the Zionist conventions today.

vessel carrying contraband may be destroyed without liability or accountability beyond the payment of such compensation for damages as may be fixed by a German prize court. The issue thus presented arises on a disputed interpretation of treaty provisions, the settlement of which requires direct diplomatic discussion between the two governments and cannot be properly based upon the decision of the German prize court which is in no way conclusive or binding upon the government of the United States.

The government of the United States also dissents from the view expressed in your note that "there would be no foundation for a claim of the American government unless the prize courts should not grant indemnity in accordance with the treaty."

The claim presented by the American government is for an indemnity for a violation of a treaty, in distinction from an indemnity in accordance with the treaty and therefore is a matter for adjustment by direct diplomatic discussion between the two governments and is no way dependent upon the action of a German prize court.

AUSTRO-GERMANS CROSS THE DNIESTER RIVER

BERLIN REPORTS THE FALL OF THE
GALICIAN TOWN OF HALICZ

Desperate Rear Guard Action by Russ End in Their Retirement—River San Takes the Place of Dniester as Scene of a Sanguinary Battle.

PARIS, June 28.—Announcement was made at the French ministry of war today that according to the Italian press Italy has broken diplomatic relations with Turkey. Italy, it is added, will send troops to the Dardanelles.

London, June 28.—Berlin reports the fall of the Galician town of Halicz and says that the Austro-Germans have crossed the Dniester river, which means that the five days' desperate rear guard action by the Russians has ended in their retirement. However, the stubborn resistance of this flank of the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies has undoubtedly enabled him to reform his lines along the river Bug, virtually without interference.

Petrograd Admits Retirement.—The River San now takes the place of the Dniester as the scene of a sanguinary battle in the Russian effort to prevent the investment of Warsaw. Petrograd admits the retirement of the Russians to the river Gula Lipa, which is some 80 miles from the frontier and falls into the Dniester at Halicz but military experts do not expect heavy fighting along that river. They express the opinion that the next serious battle probably will occur along the Zlota Lipa river, which runs parallel to the Gula Lipa further westward, where the Russians would benefit by the railroad, with which the Tarnopol line connects.

These operations and plans, according to military men, confirm the theory that the Dniester forces were merely covering for the northern army.

Cabinet Returns to Capital.—The reorganized Russian cabinet has returned to Petrograd, after a field conference with the emperor and Grand Duke Nicholas.

The Russian press devotes considerable attention to the reconstruction of the cabinet, the convocation of the Duma and the mobilization of industry for war purposes, one writer declaring that the pronouns "we" and "they" as applied to distinguish the government from the people, will now cease to exist.

General Polivanoff, who has been designated as minister of war, was assistant minister of war during the reorganization of the army following the Russo-Japanese war. He has the reputation of being an excellent soldier and organizer and enjoys considerable popularity on account of his liberal views.

Italians Enter Austria.—Through passes 5,000 feet in altitude the Italians have entered the Austrian territory south of Riva on the western side of Lake Garda. They are now within six miles of Riva, which is the only important town on this lake. On the western front the only important actions, according to the brief French report, consists in the repulse of German attacks on the Calonne trench near Metzeral. On the other hand, Berlin claims that the French attacks at all points were repulsed.

The munitions bill will not become a law until next Thursday the committee stage having been proposed at the request of David Lloyd, George, minister of munitions, for further conferences with the work-ers.

COHEN ADVOCATES FEDERAL CONTROL OF LABOR LEGISLATION

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—"Whether the intentions of the various legislatures are good, bad or indifferent, the manufacturer has no fair competition under the present arrangement," declared Barney Cohen, assistant chief factory inspector of Illinois, in an address this afternoon before government labor officials of the United States and Canada, who are in convention here. Mr. Cohen is president of the organization. He advocated federal control of labor legislation and uniform labor laws in all states.

"If a labor law is good for one state, is it not good for all?" he asked the delegates.

ADVOCATES BIRTH CONTROL.

Chicago, June 28.—Birth control was advocated today by Dr. Elizabeth Hamilton Muncie of Brooklyn in an address before the Surgical and Gynecological section of the American institute of homeopathy, which opened its 71st annual convention. She denounced the laws that prevent physicians from telling their patients how to limit their family.

TAKES REFUGEES TO ALEXANDRIA

Washington, June 28.—Captain Decker, commanding the Cruiser Tennessee in the eastern Mediterranean reported to the navy department today that upon the request of American ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople he had taken 670 refugees from Jaffa and other Asia Minor points to Alexandria, Egypt. The refugees included 389 Italians, 64 Greeks, 51 Americans and 12 consular officers whose nationality was not given.

GERARD PREDICTS FAVORABLE REPLY

DESCRIBES ATMOSPHERE IN BERLIN
OFFICIAL CIRCLES AS FAVORABLE

Officials Assume Arrangement Will Be Suggested Whereby Submarines Will Not Attack Ships of Any Nationality Primarily Used For Passenger Travel.

Washington, June 28.—Favorable reply from Germany to the last note of the United States concerning submarine warfare and the sinking of the Lusitania was predicted in an official despatch from Ambassador Gerard received today at the state department. It was transmitted to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H.

Peters To Gerard's Visit.

While the ambassador did not attempt to outline the forthcoming German note, he described the atmosphere in Berlin official quarters as favorable to a satisfactory reply. He referred to the visit of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the emissary of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, pointing out that the latter's information apparently had impressed the German government with the idea that the United States did not want war with Germany, but desired a satisfactory reply to her original demands. The fact that Ambassador Gerard took occasion to predict informally the nature of the reply was regarded as significant in official quarters here, where it was pointed out that the ambassador's forecasts in the past had been conservative.

Although it was not generally known he gave the Washington government to understand what would be considered in the last German note and the text itself bore out his prediction. Inasmuch as the communication which is under preparation in Berlin is said to have been scrutinized by Emperor William as well as Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg and other high officials, the belief prevails that Ambassador Gerard would not have made his deductions without awaiting information following the consultations between the emperor and his advisers.

Expect Answer in Ten Days.

Ambassador Gerard understands the German official purpose to be to make no concessions which will affect the use of the submarine as a means of warring on the commerce of Great Britain but to propose some way by which American lives and legitimate interests will be safeguarded. Officials here have no inkling as to the methods by which this object is to be attained but from previous despatches from Berlin it is assumed that an arrangement whereby submarines would refrain entirely from attacks on ships of any nationality primarily used for passenger travel while continuing to wage vigorous warfare on enemy ships devoted chiefly to the transportation of contraband. The theory on which the Berlin foreign office is believed to be working is that the amount of contraband carried by enemy passenger lines is of a negligible quantity and that the submarine can be used most effectively against freight ships and transports. It is not known whether it is proposed to give passenger ships complete immunity or whether assurances will be asked that if signalled by a submarine for visit and search they will offer no resistance. As yet no intimation has come to the state department as to when the German note will reach here but it is believed the communication will be completed within the next ten days.

GO TO COLORADO.

Misses Verne Smith, Anna Long, Anna Hopper, Anna Tendler and Lou Roberts composed a party of campers who have gone to Eldora, Colorado, where they will occupy a cottage owned by Dr. A. L. Adams. They expect to be away for two months.

WILL WED TODAY.

The marriage of Hugh J. Hagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hagan of this city, and Miss Margaret Agnes Flynn of Murrysville will take place this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Bartholomew's church in Murrysville. Rev. Father Beary officiating. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Timothy Flynn, residing southwest of Jacksonville, and the groom is employed with the firm of Martin Bros., this city.

GOV. DUNNE HEARS PROTESTS ON BILLS

Police Officials Voice Objections to Rogues' Gallery Measure

TERM ACT VICIOUS

Peoria Chief Declares Police Might as Well Quit Business If Bill Becomes Law

PICTURE MEN OPPOSE BILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 28.—Police officials from Chicago, Peoria, Elgin, Joliet and Springfield attended a hearing granted today by Governor Dunne on H. B. 492, an act prohibiting the photographing of prisoners prior to conviction. All expressed the conviction that the act was vicious and designed to hurt the Bertillon system of indexing criminals.

"If you sign this act and it becomes a law, Governor," said W. W. Rhoades, Chief of Police of Peoria, "the police in this state might just as well quit business. This bill was traded through the house. Less than two percent of the people of Illinois want to see such a law on the statute books but that two percent have good reasons for wanting it there."

Exercise Great Caution.

Captain P. D. O'Brien, chief of the Chicago detective bureau, told Governor Dunne that the police exercised great caution to see that no injustices was done to individuals in the securing of photographs for the Rogues' Gallery.

"If the bill is passed," said Captain O'Brien, "crime will increase and our bureaus will be worthless."

"Do you ever photograph a man before he is convicted?" asked the governor.

"Sometimes, but if he isn't convicted we return the photograph—if he asks for it."

"Do you return many?"

"They don't often ask for them," replied Captain O'Brien.

Picture Men are Heard.

Parts of moving picture films considered objectionable and ordered cut out by the board of censors of the city of Chicago are replaced when the films leave Chicago and are shown in other parts of Illinois. Secretary of State Lewis G. Stevenson told Governor Dunne today at the public hearing on S. B. 382, an act creating a state board of censors of moving pictures. Representatives of film manufacturers, were present to oppose the signing of the bill asserting that already there is too much censorship. They were already enforced by assistant corporation counsel Reker of Chicago, Major Funkhauser, and Second Deputy Superintendent of Police in Chicago.

State's Law Should be Changed.

At a public hearing tonight on S. B. 442 (Gorman) changing the method of payment of fees of the Chicago oil inspector so as to make fees payable at destination of shipment instead of at source, Governor Dunne earned it has been the custom in Illinois for county judges to appoint employees of refining companies as oil inspectors.

"Who appoints the employees as public oil inspectors?" queried the governor.

"Why the county judges," replied J. E. McGaughey, representing several refining companies.

"Well this is shocking," declared the governor. "Its high time the law was changed. No man can serve two masters."

The governor signed two bills this afternoon.

H. B. 963 (Appropriations' committee): Appropriating $5,000,000 for the use of the university of Illinois for the next two years.

H. B. 653 (German): Appropriating $50,000 for an armory at Peoria.

CLAYNE ORDERS INVESTIGATION.

Chicago, June 28.—Charles F. Clayne, United States district attorney, tonight ordered an investigation to determine whether building and material interests here are not engaging in a conspiracy to violate the Clayton anti-trust act by a general shutdown of building supply industries scheduled to take place tomorrow.

The investigation was ordered, it was said, as the result of complaints by union officials who assert that the shutdown plan of the employers was an attempt to prevent builders from obtaining materials and supplies for construction work.

HAS HEAVY RAINFALL.

Duquoin, Ill., June 28.—Five inches of rain fell throughout southern Illinois during the last forty-eight hours, breaking all records for a similar period within the memory of the present generation. No trains were run on the Wabash, Chester & Western railroad lines today, as the roadbed has been weakened and numerous washouts are reported.

George Fitch now famous as a humorist recently announced his intention of removing from Peoria to his old home at Galva. This announcement has brought forth various reminiscences about him. One of the Galva papers has come into the limelight because years ago one of its editors fired Fitch, then new at the writing game for "trying to be fun." But later on Fitch did more than "try" and he has attained national fame.

Despite protests from a host of government employees, the Internal Revenue Bureau will soon discharge all of the government guagers in rectifying establishments. The government will save $240,000 a year, the average salary of the guagers having been $900 per year. Individual rectifiers are to be held responsible after July for the work heretofore performed by the government guagers. Possibly this change is the result of the large falling off in the use of whiskey during the past year.

Anthony Comstock, whose long service in the suppression of vice has made him famous, today ceases to be a U. S. postoffice inspector. The vice crusader held the office for forty years, most of which period he served without salary. Comstock has exercised personal supervision over the morals of New York for many decades. He won some notable victories, but of late years his influence has waned. It is said the society which has backed him has stripped him of most of his support.

One reason for the decline of Comstock's influence was because he gradually became so narrow that he was ranked as a fanatic and he saw evil in a great many things which seemed to the average person quite harmless. In some instances too the attacks he made served only to advertise, and to draw attention. For example his protests against certain works of art resulted only in laying emphasis upon the physical in the subjects.

Fourth of July "Don'ts."

If you intend to have fireworks—Don't leave fireworks packed or unpacked, in a room where there is any sort of artificial light other than electric light.

Remember that powder grains will shake out of packages during shipment to your home and scatter around the packing box. The box therefore is an open powder bag until cleaned out.

Don't scratch matches in the same room with the fireworks. No one can tell where a match head will go.

Don't permit smoking in the same room.

Don't permit anyone, while your display is in progress, to approach the main supply of fireworks with lighted punk stick, cigar, pipe or cigarette.

Keep a few buckets of water at hand against possible need, and as an additional precaution have your garden hose connected to the water pipe ready for use.

Don't allow little children, especially girls with sheer, easily ignited dresses, to play with fireworks, (even the reputed safe sparkler) unless they are carefully watched and supervised by persons of mature age.

These "don'ts" are intended as "reminders." The dangers they cover are so familiar that few people think to guard against all of them.

Preparedness.

Both letters and telegraphic dispatches from Europe seem to indicate that the chief cause of the reverses which the allies have met has been the lack of ammunition. Every effort is being put forth by the allies to manufacture more ammunition in the plants in their own countries and forces have been enlarged as much as possible and work night and day. The vast amount of ammunition being consumed daily is indicated by the statement that in one battle recently in two hours the Germans discharged a total amount of ammunition equal to 1000 carloads of average size. The present condition—that is, the plentiful supply that Germany seems to have and the short supply of the allies—indicates not only the preparedness with which Germany entered the conflict, but the splendid executive ability used in the management of that country's equipment.

The allies have wealth and resources almost limitless, but in the present situation all this money counts for little as against the preparedness and foresight of the Germans. Gradually England, France and Russia are increasing their facilities for buying ammunition and have offered premium prices for speedy production in this country, and no doubt the time will come when they will surpass Germany in the amount of ammunition at their command. But this condition in the view of a great many writers, is tending to continue the conflict longer than would have been the case otherwise.

And this very condition is being used with telling effect by those American statesmen and private citizens who believe that the United States is very derelict in duty in not making more abundant preparation for war than has been done in the past. They point out that in event of the war which now seems impossible that the vast wealth and resources of the United States would be as nothing in comparison with the preparedness of some foreign enemy. Further, they lay emphasis upon the fact that practically all of our plants which manufacture ammunition are located in the east and that if these were captured by an enemy that it would only be a short time until the country was at the feet of the enemy and occupying a place in the world, as they maintain, like defenseless China.

"Man's Home His Castle."

The well known saying that "every man's home is his castle" seems to be founded upon an English law decision dating back more than 1,500 years. This law was quoted by the New York court of appeals in criticizing the instructions given in a lower court in a case where a father shot and killed his son, a young man of twenty-two, and was convicted of murder. The West Digest of interesting cases reviews this one. The shooting took place in the little cottage where the son had been born and reared.

On the trial the father maintained that he had acted without premeditation, when blinded by passion because of blows and insults and that he had acted justifiably in lawful self-defense. The lower court instructed the jury in part: "To justify this defendant, applying the law to this case, in shooting his son, or shooting at him, or using any force against him, he must have had reasonable cause for believing, not that the boy some time in the future might do something against him, but he must have reasonable cause for believing that the boy right then, when he came down those stairs and landed on the kitchen floor, was about to attack him. Even then he would have had no right to use a weapon, or any other force, if he could have gotten away from danger by retreating, if he could have gotten off the porch, and gone across the lot, and down the road, or around the house, or anywhere, to a place of safety, then the law says that he should have done so, and that he had no right to use the weapon against his son, unless all reasonable means of retreating were cut off, and the boy was threatening him with bodily injury, or putting his life in danger."

The New York Court of Appeals, however, says: "We think that these instructions are erroneous as applied to the case at bar. The homicide occurred in the defendant's dwelling. It is not now, and never has been, the law that a man assailed in his own dwelling is bound to retreat. If assailed there, he may stand his ground and resist the attack. He is under no duty to take to the fields and the highways, a fugitive from his own home. More than 200 years ago it was said by Lord Chief Justice Hale (1 Hale's Pleas of the Crown, 486): 'In case a man is assailed in his own house, he need not flee as far as he can, as in other cases of self-defense, for he hath the protection of his house to excuse him from flying, as that would be to give up the protection of his house to his adversary by flight.' Flight is for sanctuary and shelter, and shelter, if not sanctuary, is in the home. That there is, in such a situation, no duty to retreat, is we think, the settled law in the United States as in England." See People v. Tomlins, 107 North-eastern Reporter, 496.

ONE YEAR OF THE GREAT WAR.

Through the bewildering maze of concurrences in Europe during the past year, with its countless changes and denials, its endless political intrigue, its alibis and shifting of responsibilities, and its tangle of fact and fiction that defies the analyst, one fact clearly stands out—that it was the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his morganatic wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, on June 28th, 1914, that crystallized the racial and political animosities of Europe into the great war.

While the real political significance of the murder may never be known, the act resulted in the most terrible war, the greatest sacrifice in lives and treasure, that the world has known. The major portion of the world is engulfed in strife, the full extent of which has not yet been reached.

It is the Serbian claim that it had been known in political and diplomatic circles months before the assassination that a plot had been uncovered to kill the Archduke. The Serbians, although the murder was attributed to them as a political act, claim that Francis Ferdinand was recognized by all Slavs, including the Serbs, to be their friend and champion.

Nevertheless, the assassination was the direct cause of the Austro-Hungarian ultimatum to Serbia, issued July 23. This was a note of eleven articles demanding punishment to those persons concerned in the assassination and of alleged anti-Austrian propaganda. Although Serbia accepted eight of the articles, and suggested arbitration of the other three, this was not satisfactory to Austria. Then followed quickly the events which thrust Europe into war, and the great peace work built up by years of patient effort was swept by the board.

This, it is said the war has cost 6,000,000 lives. The vast results on land are these:

The greater portion of Belgium is under the control of Germany. Germany has been driven from the Far East.

A part of the Dardanelles is in the possession of the allied troops. Portions of France and Russia are in the possession of German troops.

A strip of Alsace has been taken from Germany.

On the continent of Africa parts of territorial possessions have been lost by both sides.

Italian troops are in possession of a strip of Austrian territory.

The outstanding results at sea are these:

German and Austrian mercantile shipping has been driven from all the open seas.

German and Austrian war vessels having a total displacement of approximately 257,000 tons have been destroyed.

War vessels of the allied nations having a total displacement of 192,000 tons have been sent to the bottom.

The greater portions of the German and allied fleets in the North Sea remain intact.

Except for communication through Holland and the Scandinavian nations, Germany is cut off from the rest of the world.

Efforts on the part of the Germans to place the British Isles in a similar predicament has resulted in the sinking by submarines of hundreds of vessels flying the flags of the allied and neutral nations. The sinking in this manner of the Cunard liner Lusitania with the loss of more than 100 American lives precipitated a request upon the part of the United States that such practices in so far as they might menace Americans, be stopped.

MRS. ELLEN H. WALWORTH WAS WOMAN OF GREAT TALENT

Deceased Was Daughter of Col. John J. Hardin and Had Written Several Books.

Henry D. Day contributed the following to the Peoria Star about the death of Mrs. Walworth, daughter of Col. John J. Hardin:

The New York Herald of Thursday, June 24, 1915, contains an obituary notice of Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, quite a noted lady, who died in a hospital at Washington, D. C., Wednesday, June 23, 1915. She belonged to a prominent Illinois family, and married into a prominent New York family. She was born at Jacksonville, Illinois, October 20, 1832, and was the daughter of Col. John J. Hardin, lawyer, congressman and soldier. One of his law students was Hon. Richard Yates, war governor of Illinois, and Mr. Yates delivered his funeral oration at Jacksonville after he had been killed on the second day of the battle of Buena Vista in Mexico, Feb. 27, 1847, while leading the final charge.

Miss Hardin was educated at one of the Jacksonville seminaries for young ladies, and was married in 1852 to Mansfield Tracy Walworth at Saratoga, N. Y., where she lived practically all her life. Her husband was a son of Reuben Hyde Walworth, a prominent American jurist, congressman, and twenty years chancellor of New York. His decisions and "Chancery Rules and Orders" were quite noted. M. T. Walworth became an author of considerable repute, chiefly in the line of fiction. He was assassinated in 1873 by a son, who was acquitted of the charge of murder on the ground of insanity.

Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth was herself a person of great talent and she attained much celebrity. She wrote extensively on historical subjects, among her works being "Battles of Saratoga," "Battle of Buena Vista," "Life of General John J. Hardin," "History of the Hardin Family," and a number of patriotic and miscellaneous poems and essays. In 1897 she published "Parliamentary Rules." She was distinguished also as one of the three founders of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1890. During the Spanish-American war she was Director-General of the Woman's National War Relief association. With supplies and nurses she was at the field hospital at Fort Monroe to meet the first wounded brought from Santiago. She was an honorable member of the Military Surgeon's Association of America.

For six years Mrs. Walworth was principal of a young ladies' school at Saratoga, and she was one of the first three women elected to membership in a school board under the New York law.

She was one of the founders of the Post-Parliament club of New York. She was a life member of the American Historical association, and was a member of the New York Genealogical and Biographical society, the New York State Historical society and the Society for the Advancement of Natural Science. For ten years she was president of the Shakespeare club of Saratoga, and for 18 years she was a trustee of the Saratoga Monument association. She was president emerita of the Saratoga Historical society and was one of the founders of the Art and Science Field club of Saratoga.

In my boyhood, members of the Hardin family were still living in Jacksonville, Ill., their home being on West State street, about a block west of the Dunlap house. I was quite well acquainted with them, and one day the boys took me on a hunting expedition several miles out into the country. They did the hunting, chiefly for prairie chickens and quail, which were then quite numerous in that vicinity, and I watched the horse, wagon and lunch.

TRIBE OF BEN-HUR INITIATES EIGHT CANDIDATES INTO ORDER

Degree Team From the Guiding Star Lodge of Springfield Puts on Work—Past Supreme Chief is Guest at Meeting.

The Jacksonville Tribe of Ben Hur received a big impetus at the enthusiastic meeting held Monday evening at their hall when a class of eight were given the work, put on by team from the Guiding Star No. 271 of Springfield, Ill.

For several days Mrs. Clara L. Camp of Crawfordsville, Indiana has been here in the interest of the lodge and it was due mostly to her efforts that the class was secured. The newly elected members were: Miss Hulda Paugust, E. E. Blakford, Miss Florence Stevenson, Abraham Coffman, Mrs. Isaac Coffman and Claud Williams and two other ladies.

The degree team was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McCool, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Seymour, Mr. Wilson Mills (captain), Miss Mabel Berlew, Mrs. Nettie Berlew, Mrs. R. G. Rogers, Mrs. N. J. Seaman, Mrs. J. J. Theison and Miss Jennie Gunderson.

The work of the team was highly complimented. While here the members were entertained in the homes of the local lodge members. H. J. McGinnis, Past Supreme Chief from Crawfordsville, Indiana, was among the visitors and his presence was of much inspiration. Mrs. Muttera and daughter Genisa from Tomascus Court, Springfield, were also among the guests present from out of the city.

CITY AND COUNTY

Misses Agnes Lusk and Elizabeth Russel left last evening for New York to pursue vacation studies in Columbia university.

Mrs. E. L. Crouch and son departed Monday afternoon over the Burlington route for California points and will visit during her stay on the coast, the expositions at San Francisco and San Diego.

Mrs. Margaret Casey of Route street has gone to Bloomington to visit her daughter, Mrs. G. O. Walker, and expects to go thence to Mt. Vernon to visit her son, John A., who has been in business there for some time and is one of the Jacksonville boys who are making good.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Swarbut and two sons arrived from Decatur on the Wabasha Monday afternoon and will be guests of Supt. Gilbert at the state school for the deaf for a number of days. They started over in their car but the heavy rainfall necessitated a change from automobile to train at Illiopolis.

W. C. Bradish, vice president of the Clover Leaf Casualty Co., has returned from a business visit in the Northern part of the state. Mrs. Bradish and two sons, Walter and Philip are spending some time at the Bradish farm near Pontiac.

Misses Laura and Eva Hammond will leave this morning for Chicago for a short stay and thence go to New York where Miss Eva will devote herself to art study and Miss Laura perfecting herself in the work of teaching and managing children who are candidates for outdoor or open air schools.

Miss Isabel Baldwin who is teaching domestic science in the Milwaukee high school is at home for her summer vacation. She will return to Milwaukee at the beginning of the school year.

A NEW USE FOR BEER KEGS.

A western paper prints the following article with an illustration showing how beer kegs are being utilized in Kansas for wheels on binders. The broad surface, it is said, makes it possible to use binders in this way in wet fields.

"Beer kegs taken in raids on joints are helping to save the wheat crop in Cherokee County, Kansas. M. H. Snodgrass, a farmer near Columbus, worked out the scheme for converting the beer keg into an additional wheel for binders and preventing the miring of the machines in fields muddy because of the incessant rains. The device has proved successful and other farms are copying it.

"Holes in the ends of the kegs admit a galvanized iron pipe for an axle and the device is attached to the binder so as to bear most of the weight of the machine. It is found that the machine thus equipped can be pulled easily through the softest fields."

WILL GIVE LECTURE.

The Rev. W. J. Burner of Peoria will give a lecture at Central Christian church Friday evening at 8 o'clock on Mexico and Mexicans. The Rev. Mr. Burner is a personal friend of Rev. Myron L. Pottius. He was for seven years a missionary in Argentina. He has been on the Mexican border for the last six months. The lecture is free and the public is invited.

CIGAR BOX MAKING AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY

Local Company Has Capacity of 1500 a Day—Business Extends to Many States.

One of the industries of Jacksonville which one hears little about is the Jacksonville Cigar Box Factory located on West Court street. This factory has been in existence for a great many years, having been operated by Haller Higgins for some time. Mr. Higgins sold the plant to T. H. Wright who in turn sold it to D. R. Hamlin and Frank Sedran of Canton. These men incorporated the business under the name of the Jacksonville Cigar Box Factory. They did not operate it long, however but sold it to Fred Drake and a number of associates. This was about 1905.

After securing control of the plant Mr. Drake who is manager, began to go after the business. Formerly many local cigar manufacturers had to go out of the city for boxes, especially for the better brands of cigars. Mr. Drake enlarged the plant which had a capacity of 200 boxes per day, so that it would produce under full working capacity, 1500 boxes per day. At this time the company has a business that extends in every direction for a radius of probably 500 miles. The company sells many boxes in Oklahoma, Indiana and Iowa.

Most people have little conception of the magnitude of the local cigar business. Mr. Drake told a reporter for the Journal that when all the local factories were running at full capacity they require between five and six hundred boxes per day. That means nearly 200,000 boxes per year. It is well known that Jacksonville has the reputation of making the best five and ten cent cigars in the state and perhaps is safe to say that this will apply to the entire country. Mr. Drake said that the McCarthy-Gebert company alone used about 100 boxes per day for their ten cent goods.

The company when running full capacity employs about fourteen people. For the most part these are employees who paste labels on boxes and that is all piece work.

FUNERALS

Hackman.

Funeral services for Miss Anna Hackman were held from the family residence at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The services were private and were in charge of the First Church of Christ Scientist with Miss Anna Bronson and William F. Widmeyer as readers. A solo was given by Robert M. Hockenbush with Miss Florence Loar at the piano. The flowers were in charge of Misses Mamie and Bessie Hackman.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were: Henry Frisch, Stanley Quisenberry, Howard Zahn, J. A. Boston, C. C. Jeffries and William Self.

Klinefelter.

The funeral of E. S. Klinefelter, who died in Jacksonville, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Christian church at Versailles, Rev. Mr. Frost of the Christian church officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Tilsh of the M. E. church. There was a large gathering of friends to honor the memory of the departed. The Masonic lodge assisted in the services. Music was furnished by the church choir and the flowers were cared for by Misses Bernice Chenoweth and Lucy Doors.

Among those who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Smith and daughter Clara of this city; Dwight Smith of Washington; Fred and Bertha Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harnes of Roodhouse; Henry Gillis of Bloomington.

Dyer.

The funeral of L. N. Dyer was conducted from the E. church in Arenzville Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in charge of Rev. W. P. Bowman. Music was furnished by Mrs. Edward Jewsbury, Miss Amelia Cera, Ernest Weaver and W. B. Woods. Mrs. H. W. Recamp was pianist.

Burial was made in the Arenzville cemetery and the bearers were: J. A. Weeks, J. G. Kraft, H. F. Triebert, R. W. Recamp, Ralph Schaeffer and E. E. Divver.

Blood Troubles Can Not Remain If Properly Treated.

There is in S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, a property that absolutely compels harmful influences to disintegrate and lose their identity. No matter what they are called nor how destructive they are there is in S. S. S. a powerful, searching counter influence to annihilate the most virulent germ, causes the mucus linings to convert it into an inert substance that is quickly thrown out of the blood and out of the body by the skin, lungs, kidneys, bowels, and destroyed in the liver. There is not a single advance in medicine today that in any sense is an improvement over S. S. S. Surgery is a wonderful, masterful science, but when it comes to purifying the blood S. S. S. stands alone. Thousands of doctors have prescribed it. Their patients do not always know it is S. S. S., because they leave the treatment to the doctor implicitly. But fair-minded doctors long ago realized that in the vegetable nature of S. S. S. were certain ingredients that to the blood in sickness were just as essential as the flesh-building elements of the grains, meats, fats and sugars of our daily food. The average doctor is humane and of trained intelligence. He has seen the recoveries from worst cases of blood trouble by the use of S. S. S. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist. Accept no substitute. And if you wish proper advice on any form of blood trouble, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 102 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is worth while doing so.

U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE.

Good Water for Farm Homes.

Clear, sparkling water is not always pure water. A refreshing draught from "the old oaken bucket" may be the beginning of a long and possibly fatal illness from typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera or other disease.

The subject of pure water supplies for drinking and cooking purposes is discussed in a bulletin just issued by the United States public health service under the title "Good Water for Farm Homes."

The germs of the so-called water-borne diseases come from the bodies of persons afflicted with these diseases. They do not live long outside the body and do not originate spontaneously in nature. A few diseases are communicated from animals to man, but for the most part the germs which get into drinking water and produce disease come only from human beings. If we keep the waste products from the bodies of human beings and animals away from our water supplies, we keep the water free from disease germs.

The usual sources of farm water supplies are wells, springs and cisterns. Running streams are so seldom free from dangerous pollution that without purification they cannot often be considered safe for domestic use.

The most common form of supply is the shallow well reaching into a layer of earth saturated with water. Few of these are fed by flowing streams, except in limestone formations, and they are really little more than reservoirs for "surface water." Since they drain the surface for a radius of sometimes several hundred feet, their location with reference to stables, outhouses and stock pens is a matter of prime importance. Other possible sources of pollution are a leaky or loose well casing, a defective curb or a cover that is not water tight. The best methods of constructing such wells and protecting their contents are set forth in this bulletin of the public health service.

THE RICHARDS' GOLDEN WEDDING.

The golden wedding anniversary took place at the Richards home on East North street Monday as anticipated and was a very happy occasion. All day friends called to pay their respects and utter words of friendship and appreciation which were gratefully received by the bride and groom of half a century ago and to the succeeding generation.

During the afternoon a group picture was taken. It was the hope that Mrs. Richards' brother, Dr. H. H. Richards, would be present, but he hardly felt equal to the effort.

Among the guests from a distance were Frank Hopkins of Willamette, P. P. Faulkner of Cairo, Joan Utt and Mrs. John Gault of Springfield.

BENJAMIN WATSON WEDS MISS GRACE POOR AT PEORIA

Ceremony Took Place at Home of Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan and Young People Went to Pacific Coast on Honeymoon.

The following account of the wedding of Mr. Watson and Miss Poor is from Sunday's Peoria Journal. "In the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan on Randolph avenue last evening Miss Grace Poor became the bride of Benjamin Watson of Kansas City in a lovely ceremony.

"Shortly before half past eight o'clock Glasgow's orchestra played the opening bars of the triumphant Lohengrin bridal procession and the groom and his best man, Frank Phillips of Bloomington, came in with the officiating minister, Dr. Arthur M. Little of the Second Presbyterian church.

The bridal ribbons were stretched by little Ruth Symour and Robert Ticknor, members of Miss Poor's Sunday school class of the Second Presbyterian church.

Miss Helen Chubbuck came next as maid of honor and she was followed by the bride who entered with her uncle, Judge Duncan, who gave her in marriage.

"Before the mantle in the living room the nuptial vows were exchanged. The mantle was banked with a solid mass of palms and ferns and on either side were tall wicker standards filled with pink roses tied with great bows of pink satin ribbon. Smilax in profusion was used throughout the house and in the reception room smilax banked the archway leading to the stairway while on either side were baskets of roses. The same decorative scheme was carried out in the dining room but the conventional bride's table was dispensed with, instead a buffet supper was served. The young people gathered in the dining room where the bride's cake was brought in on a pedestal for the bride and her friends to cut. In the cake were the usual little conceits which cause many a maiden's heart to flutter especially if she is fortunate enough to draw the ring.

"The bride who is petite and slim, wore a handsome gown of French satin zibeline trimmed with rose point lace the skirt being draped in Grecian fashion and fastened with a long square court train. Her bodice was fashioned almost entirely of the rose point the neck being open. She wore a veil caught in cap effect with a wreath of orange blossoms and the lace edge fell in becoming folds about her face. Her bouquet was of bride's roses and a shower of lilies of the valley and her only ornament was a handsome bar pin set in pearls the gift of the groom.

Miss Chubbuck was in pink Georgian crepe over white net and she carried pink roses.

A reception followed the ceremony the bride and groom receiving the guests with Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan, Judge and Mrs. Warren Duncan, of Marion, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. George Watson of York, Pennsylvania and Miss Pauline Duncan of Marion.

Mrs. Cowan was handsome in a white lace imported Princess lace robe made in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson left at midnight for the coast and will make their home in Kansas City taking apartments in a hotel until the late autumn. For her traveling Mrs. Watson wore a black and white cloth suit with a small black hat topped with rose colored wings.

"The wedding was one of the largest and most interesting of the June affairs and was attended by some one hundred and fifty guests among those from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Whetzel of East St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. D. Gillespie of Springfield, Miss Grace Watson of Richmond, Va., Miss Bess Phillips of St. Louis, Messrs. Owen Orr, and Arthur Webb of St. Louis and Bunn Deane of Cincinnati.

CORNELL WINS 'VARSITY' FOUR MILE BOAT RACE

BEATS LELAND STANFORD BY ONLY EIGHT FEET.

Syracuse Finished Third, Columbia Fourth and Pennsylvania Last—Stanford Forces Ithaca Veterans to a Last Effort of Nerve and Strenth.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 28.—In a triangular battle of blades, unequalled in American rowing history, Cornell won the 'varsity' four mile race here late this afternoon from Leland Stanford by eight feet. Syracuse, exhausted by the struggle, slid over the line two lengths in front of the Columbia crew which wrested fourth place from Pennsylvania in the last mile of the regretful on the Hudson.

Stanford, represented for the first time, nearly 4,000 miles from home and practically overlooked as a contender in the predictions of experts forced the Ithaca veterans, favorites in the betting, to a last effort of nerve and strength in order to win.

From the time Stroke Maurer of Stanford drove his blade into the water Stanford was a factor in the struggle and as the prow of the Cardinal shell crept upon the faltering Cornell oarsmen in the terrific drive at the finish, thousands were shrieking and cheering the far western crew on. Syracuse, which had been fighting with Cornell for the lead was unable to stand the terrific pace of the last mile.

When the Stanford coxswain called for a last desperate effort from his crew the cardinal boat swept easily by their salt city rivals but Coack Courtney's oarsmen were made of sterner stuff and though wabbling and exhausted had just enough strength to hold their lead until the finish line was passed.

From the flash of the pistol the race resolved itself into a struggle between Cornell, Stanford and Syracuse. The Californians caught the water first and drove into the lead rowing 38 to the minute. Syracuse hit up a forty pace and held second over Cornell rowing 36, while Pennsylvania and Columbia stroked off at 32.

Syracuse forged into the lead just before the half mile buoy with Stanford showing the way to Cornell by a quarter of a length. At the mile Syracuse led by half a length over Cornell, with Stanford third, a length ahead of Pennsylvania and Columbia last.

There was little change in positions or strokes at the mile and a half, but at the two mile flag Cornell was rowing an easy 28 and showing the way to Syracuse by a length, while Stanford, close in shore, was spacing along easily in third place, less than a length behind the Ten Eyck shell. At this point both Pennsylvania, with its English stroke, and Columbia, rowing very delicately were virtually out of the race. Entering on the second half of the course, Stanford challenged the leaders, each of which had a length over the following crew. Out from under the shadows of the railroad bridge Syracuse made its bid for victory. Little by little the orange shell crept up on the Ithaca crew, but Stanford was not to be shaken off and rowed stroke for stroke with the upstate crews. Half a mile from the finish Cornell's lead had been cut to half a length by Syracuse, but the Californians were going faster than either of their rivals and lay but a quarter length behind the salt city eight's crew.

The strain was too terrific for Ten Eyck's pupils and the orange craft drifted back and left the Cardinal to fight it out with Cornell. Stanford, with Syracuse eliminated, set out to overtake Courtney's crew, now leading by less than a length. Inch by inch the prow of the western craft moved up until it passed the waist of the Cornell shell, while the spectators along the shore and on the observation train yelled and roared encouragement to the contenders.

The partisans of Pennsylvania, Columbia and Syracuse, seeing that their eight's could not win, cheered frantically for the Cardinal oarsmen. The Stanford men labored at their oars like galley slaves under the lash, but Cornell was just as game and better versed in the propelling of a racing shell, and when the cannon boomed on the judges' boat the championship crew of the Pacific coast was just a bare eight feet short of a victory that would have upset all rowing traditions in the United States.

The official time for each crew for the full four miles was as follows:

Cornell	20:36 3-5
Stanford	20:37 4-5
Syracuse	20:43 2-5
Columbia	21:00
Pennsylvania	21:10 1-5

UNITED STATES PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE.

Are You a Federal Employee?

This question can be answered in the affirmative by over 400,000 persons, the largest army of employees which can be mustered in the land. They comprise a most intelligent, efficient and representative group of citizens, individuals who have attained prominence in their respective communities and who are looked to for advice. Yet for every month of the coming year six of these people will die unnecessarily of a disease which is absolutely preventable. That disease is typhoid fever. The annual toll from this single group of workers is over seventy lives. Can you afford to take the chance of being one of the seventy? Think it over and decide.

Under order of Feb. 12, 1915, Secretary of the Treasury W. G. McAdoo designated 164 stations of the public health service in the United States where the preventive treatment may be administered. Whether you work in Ketchikan, Sheboygan or Washington is immaterial; the treatment is at your call and without cost. The inconvenience is slight, the dangers negligible and the immunity fairly permanent. Reckoning the period of immunity as four years and basing the calculation upon what has already been accomplished, compliance with the secretary's offer would result in saving the lives of 300 people and at least ten times that number from periods of invalidism.

The danger season for typhoid is now here. The vacation period is especially apt to bear a definite relation to the development of the disease and the days which should be complete with joy and pleasure are marred by disease and death. The means of infection are numerous, and flies, milk, polluted water and contaminated food products are all factors, so that control is difficult to exercise. No matter how faithful and efficient your health officer may be and regardless of the funds at his disposal, he cannot altogether relieve you of the dangers of the disease. Vaccination will, however, accomplish this.

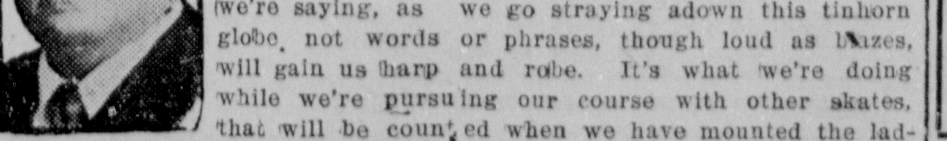

Already hundreds of federal employees have availed themselves of this opportunity to be treated. The crews of all lighthouse vessels are now immune and likewise the civil employees of the engineering corps of the army. Treatment should not be delayed by those who wish to avoid the dangers of the summer season.

TO WOMEN WHO OVERDO

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. Soon a weakness or displacement is brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse. For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved a boon and a blessing to women in this condition by restoring their system to a normal healthy condition. Why don't you try it?—Adv.

TO VISIT CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Schoedsack expect to leave the latter part of this week for a sojourn on the Pacific coast of a month or longer. They will be joined by his brother, Gus A. Schoedsack, of Council Bluffs, Ia., at Kansas City. It is the intention to visit the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco and also the one at San Diego. They will spend a few days in Los Angeles and stop over at various noted resorts, among them the Royal Gorge, while en route. Mr. Schoedsack succeeded his brother in business in this city twenty-six years ago and this is his second vacation during that time.

MODERATELY GOOD

A load of virtue will never hurt you, if modestly it's borne; the saintly relic who's too angelic for week days, makes us mourn. The gloomy mortal who by a chord or joke is deeply vexed, the turgid person who's still disburin' the precept and the text, is dull and dreary he makes us weary, we hate to see him come; oh, gent so plous, please don't come night us your creed is too blamed, glum! The saint who mumbles, when some one stumbles, "That man's forever lost", is but a fellow with streak of yellow, his words are all a frost. Not what we're saying, as we go straying down this tinhorn globe, not words or phrases, though loud as buzzes, will gain us sharp and robe. It's what we're doing while we're pursuing our course with other skates, that will be counted when we have mounted the ladder to the Gates. A drink of water to tramps who totter with weakness in the sun will help us better than text and letter of sermons by the ton. So let each action give us satisfaction, let words be few and wise, and, after dying, we'll all go flying and whooping through the skies.

CINCINNATI WINS ON ERRORS OF CHICAGO

REDS SCORE WINNING TALLY IN NINTH.

Killifer Reached First on Phelan's Error and Scored on Attempt to Catch Him Between Third and the Plate.

Cincinnati, O., June 28.—Errors by Chicago enabled Cincinnati to win. The locals made their winning run in the ninth when Killifer reached first on Phelan's error. Fisher erred when Wingo hit and Griffith drove to McLarry who threw to the plate. Killifer turned back, Wingo had started for second and the play was resumed to catch him but during the attempt to run him down Killifer scored.

New York, 3-5; Boston, 2-3.
New York, June 28.—New York won two games from the World's Champions today. The first game was an eleven inning pitchers' battle with Mathewson having the better of Pat Ragan. Magee's home run bringing in Smith who had doubled, scored Boston's two tallies.

The second contest was decided in favor of the home team through errors by Boston and New York's timely hitting.

FELSCH'S TRIPLE GIVES SOX GAME WITH BROWNS

CLOUT GIVES CHICAGO A GOOD LEAD.

Schalk Opens Third Inning With a Three Bagger, Blackburne and Scott Walk, Filling the Bases—"Hap's" Blow Brings in Three.

Chicago, June 28.—"Hap" Felsch's triple with the bases filled gave Chicago a lead which St. Louis could not overtake and the locals won. Schalk opened the third with a triple and Blackburne and Scott walked, filling the bases. Felsch then delivered his blow and scored on Weaver's single.

YANKS BUY SHAWKEY.
Boston, June 28.—Bob Shawkey, pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics for several years, has been purchased by the New York Americans. Manager Donovan of the latter team announced tonight. No other players are involved in the transaction. It is said, Shawkey will report in New York Wednesday.

"MORNING GLANCES" (By Gosh)

The Cubs after beating good teams bowed to the Reds yesterday. The final score was 3 to 2. The Reds scored their winning run in the ninth when Phelan erred and the Chicago infield did some bonehead work which permitted Killifer to score.

Happy DeFrates did some great work in the game at Nichols park Sunday. When he caught a line drive off of Hibbs and doubled Inman at first, he pegged the ball to first standing flat footed. The footing was slippery and Happy tried to stand on his ear. His peg was perfect, however.

It must have been great joy to Fred Toney to beat the Cubs yesterday. Toney was with the Cubs for several years but never made good. Perhaps because he did not have a chance. Anyway whenever he went in the crowd got after him and finally he was sent back to Louisville.

It might be a good plan for some of the Eagles to get out to the park early on Sunday and take a few lessons in bunting from Dick Wheeler. Dick laid down a perfect bunt yesterday and beat it out. He did the same thing two weeks ago. Most of the other members of the team outside of Clark come nearly making a single when they try to bunt.

The Giants beat the champion Braves a double header yesterday. If this keeps up the Cincinnati Reds may get to beating the Champions. But then the Braves are not the same team they were a year ago.

The White Sox won yesterday in one inning. St. Louis scored in the first inning. In the fourth Schalk made a triple and Blackburne and Scott walked. Then Happy Felsch came across with another triple and scored all three men and later scored on Weaver's single. The four runs gave the Sox the victory as the Browns were able to only get another tally.

Charley White pitched probably the best game of his career Sunday. His support wobbled at times but he never lost his nerve and while he did not exert himself he easily kept the visitors off the bases and struck out twelve men. It was an unusual performance when it is considered that he was working for the most part with a ball that was wet and slippery.

Wheeler let a couple of easy ones get away from him Sunday. Dick has not gotten used to playing short stop yet. He will though and when he does he will show all of the short nelders about here how the position should be played.

The Sunday game was certainly last. Just an hour and fifteen minutes from the time Umpire Abell called time until the last Astoria outter was retired.

Walter Johnson engaged in another pitchers battle Monday, his opponent being Crowell of the Athletics. As is usual in such cases Johnson won out, the final score being 2 to 0. Johnson held the Athletics to six hits none of them being for extra bases.

Washington had a new man at second in place of Ray Morgan. His name is Neff. He did fairly well for a substitute, getting one run, three hits and having one putout, two assists and no errors.

The Yanks and the Red Sox divided a bargain bill yesterday. The Yanks won the first by a score of 2 to 2 and the Red Sox won the second by a score of 6 to 2.

Smith pitching for Brooklyn held the Phillies to five hits and the Dodgers won by a score of 4 to 0.

The Tigers beat the Indians yesterday by a score of 6 to 3. Detroit took advantage of Cleveland's errors and bunched hits at the same time.

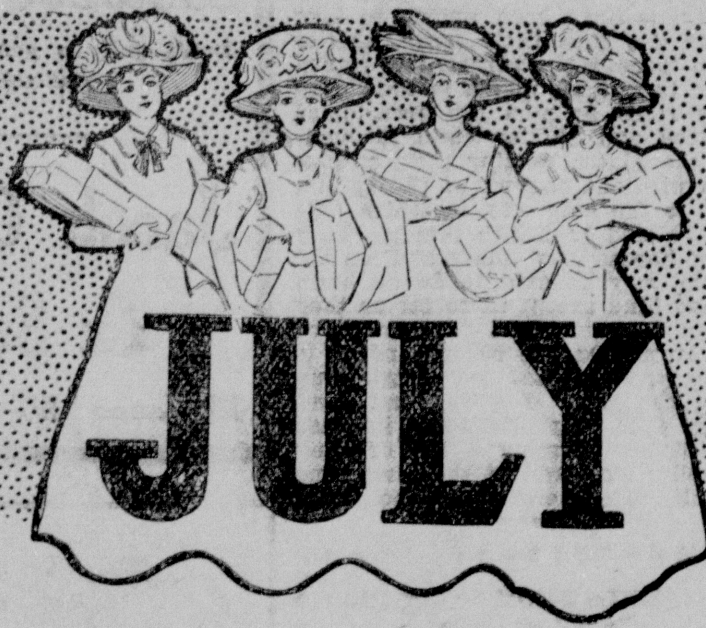

The Terriers beat the Terrapins Monday in a loose game by a score of 7 to 6. Both teams hit the ball hard but St. Louis bunched hits with Baltimore's errors.

At Brooklyn yesterday the Federal league game with Chicago, admission was free. The fans got to see Chicago beat the home team 10 to 5.

While Philadelphia was losing in the National yesterday St. Louis was not playing and the Cardinals again stepped into second place.

After leading for three innings Buffalo made costly errors and the Pittsburgh stogies beat them by a score of 13 to 9.

SUGAR A KNOWN COMMODITY FOR MANY CENTURIES

Scientists Admit That They Do Not Know of Its Origin—Candy Bill Amounts to $500,000,000 a Year.

The world has had a "sweet tooth" for many years. People have been eating sugar from time immemorial, it would seem, and growing sugar-cane is an industry so old that it antedates the Christian era by many centuries. At least that is what we gather from an article by Edward Albee in the May number of the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan-American Union, Washington, D. C., which gives a comprehensive account of the cane sugar industry in the Americas and incidentally embodies an interesting resume of what is actually known throughout the world from the very dawn of civilization to the present.

Origin Lost.—First. "Scientists admit they do not know just where the sugar cane originated," he writes, "for nowhere has it been found in its wild state. It has been a cultivated product for many centuries and the first mention to be found in written records is in the sacred books of the Hindus. I have crowned thee with a shooting sugar cane, so that thou shalt not be adverse to me," was written many centuries before the Christian era. In the train of Alexander the Great during his Asiatic conquests were some observant persons who made notes of what they saw, when not too busy killing off the inhabitants, and in these written documents, according to later writers who felt heir to them is told the story of a reed growing in India which produces honey without bees. Thus sugar cane was evidently well known in that country before 320 B. C.

First Kind of Sugar.—As to the manufactured product of the cane, the first kind of sugar of which mention is made was a concentrated cane juice called "gur" in India ("gu" in Sanskrit), and this seems to have been known as a food from prehistoric times. That its manufacture was a well-established industry in India in the seventh century is attested by the old Chinese encyclopedia, the Pertsao-kang-Mu, which states that the Emperor Taitsung, who reigned from 627 to 650 A. D., sent some of his people to Behar to learn the art of sugar making. The manufacture of sugar even in the early centuries of the Christian era was not restricted to the mere evaporation of the juice of the cane to dryness, for the Arabs and Egyptians had soon learned how to purify raw sugar by recrystallization, and incidentally how to make a great variety of sweetmeats, or candy, out of the product.

The author tells of the introduction of the cane into Sicily by the Arabs in 703, whence it was taken to Africa, to Spain and all along the coast of the Mediterranean sea, as well as to the islands and borders of the Indian ocean. The Crusaders found extensive sugar cane plantations in Triloli, Mesopotamia, Syria, Antioch and Cyprus, and by the fourteenth century the cane was being cultivated in every part of the known world where soil and climate were propitious.

Entrance to South America.—It came to South America by being introduced into Brazil by the Portuguese, who brought it from Madeira, and thence it spread to nearly all the other countries of that continent. Columbus is said to have brought it to the island of Santo Domingo, whence it spread to Mexico and Cuba. It was introduced into the other islands of the West Indies as soon as they came under European domination. The first sugar cane came to Louisiana by being sent to the Jesuits from Santo Domingo in 1751, some English authorities giving the date as 1737.

Cuba Greatest Producer.—Although practically all of the countries of the Pan-American Union cultivate the cane, Cuba is the greatest producer of cane sugar, not only in the western hemisphere, but in the world. The total production of the western hemisphere for the 1913-14 season amounted to 4,919,814 tons, of which Cuba produced 2,597,732 tons, or nearly 52 per cent. The total cane sugar production of the world was 9,773,348 tons and deducting the 2,262,600 tons produced by India and locally consumed, it is seen that Cuba produces nearly 35 per cent of the cane sugar that is available in the markets of the world.

U. S. Greatest Consumer.—The United States is the greatest sugar consuming country of the world. In 1913 its total consumption amounted to 3,743,139 tons—including cane, beet and maple. This is a per capita consumption of 85.4 pounds per annum. Much of this is consumed in the form of candy, over $500,000,000 being spent for that sweet commodity in the United States every year. New York is the largest candy consuming center in the world, and to supply that city alone it would take five trains of 50 cars, each loaded to the limit with candy, every week in the year if it had to be shipped in on a railroad.

CATTLE FROM HONDURAS IS ENROUTE TO EAST ST. LOUIS

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., June 25.—For the first time in the history of the National Stock Yards a shipment of cattle from Honduras, Central America, is enroute to East St. Louis. Announcement was made here tonight that 6,000 head had been bought in Honduras by a local firm. The first batch is expected here July 10th.

Local dealers are much interested in the venture as the purchasers of the first consignment claim it will open a supply of cattle that can be sold for considerably less than native corn fed animals.

Care of the Baby In Summer

WEANING AND SUPPLEMENTARY FEEDING.

Prepared for this paper by the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.

Weaning is the process by which breast feeding is stopped and another food given in its place. It should be done gradually. At first give one bottle instead of one of the breast feedings; after a week or two add another bottle, and then continue adding them until bottle feedings are entirely substituted for the breast.

Never hurry the weaning. Give the baby time to get used to the new food. When it is agreeing with his digestion, there is no belching of gas or spitting up of milk, and the bowel movements are soft, yellow, and smooth. If any disturbance appears, stop the bottle until it is over, giving only the breast milk.

A baby should never be weaned in the heat of summer, if it is possible to avoid it. He is much more likely to be made sick by a strange food when the weather is hot than at other times of the year. Even if the baby has to be fed partly on the bottle the mother should nurse him often enough (three or four times a day) to keep the breast milk from drying up; for if the baby should be attacked by diarrhea, the mother's milk may be the means of saving his life.

Some mothers are able to nurse their babies a full year, but many find that their milk begins to fail by the time the baby is 6 or 8 months old, so that some additional food will be required. Practically all babies should be entirely weaned from the breast by the time they are a year old, unless that brings the weaning in hot weather.

Babies born in the late summer or early fall should be nursed through the following summer, if the breast milk is sufficient in quantity, in order to carry them past the danger period in July and August. When breast milk lessens in quantity, it does not change in quality. By the addition of a bottle or two, therefore, the deficient quantity can be made up.

It is sometimes quite difficult to wean a baby and great patience is required on the part of the mother, but if the baby has been taught at an early age to take his drinking water from a bottle or from a cup, weaning will be easier. If the baby is nursed until he is ten months old or longer, he should be weaned directly to a cup. Earlier it will probably be easier to use a nursing bottle and nipple; but the bottle should not be used much beyond the end of the first year, save for the bed-time feeding.

Remember when feeding from a cup, that the milk must be taken very slowly, just as slowly as when feeding from a bottle. It is better to feed from a small spoon than to teach the baby to drink from a cup. The second summer has gained the reputation of being the most critical period of a baby's life largely because mothers are apt to feed the baby many different things after he is weaned. Very much of the food that is given these older babies is as unfit for them as artificial food is at birth.

These improper foods cause troublesome, dangerous and unnecessary illnesses which are aggravated by the heat. Careful feeding would prevent most of them.

Later articles in this series will deal with the feeding of babies from nine to twelve months, and during the second year.

When a breast-fed baby cries a good deal from hunger and does not gain in weight, the mother is apt to feel that her milk does not agree with him, and so weans him, often because of the well-meaning advice of some neighbor. This is a mistake. The trouble is not with the quality of her milk, but with the quantity.

Instead of weaning the baby she should increase her own diet, by drinking plenty of milk, eating eggs, meat, bread and fresh vegetables, and by taking moderate exercise in the open air, regular periods of rest, and by avoiding worry and excitement. This will usually increase the milk supply sufficiently; if it does not do so, the baby must be given some additional food.

This additional food, or "supplementary" feeding, as has been said, is given when it is necessary to supplement the mother's milk with one or more bottle feedings, or for the purpose of weaning the baby. Cow's milk is the only supplementary food to use. It should be the best and cleanest milk that it is possible to get, mixed with water and sugar as described in the preceding article. A very much weaker solution than that normally required for a baby of the given age, should be tried at first, increasing the strength slightly day by day if the baby shows no signs of indigestion, until the full strength food is reached.

To begin with give the baby one bottle feeding in place of one breast feeding. If he shows a gain in weight, this may be enough. If after a week there is no gain, two bottles may be given each day. The mother should meanwhile be doing all she can by rest and increased food to build up the breast milk, but if with all these measures the baby still fails to gain or gives evidence of illness, the advice of a good doctor must be sought and followed. Do not delay in securing this advice until the baby is seriously ill.

The preceding article gave directions for the proper amount of milk mixture for babies of given ages. If the mother desires fuller information she may write to the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, at Washington, D. C., for a bulletin called Infant Care, which gives simple directions for preparing the baby's feedings and shows what amount will suit the baby of a given age. This book is sent free to everyone who asks for it. A post card request will do. The name and address of the applicant should be written very plainly.

Weaning from the bottle should begin by the end of the first year, and after the baby is 14 months old he should have the bottle only when he goes to bed at night. Teach him to drink from a cup and eat from a spoon.

To wean a baby from the bottle, begin by giving him a little of his food from a spoon, gradually increasing the amount at each feeding until all of his food is taken in this way.

They set a good example to the farmer whose premises are bordered by them. The comparison of a well-graded, clean highway, with an unkempt and trashy barnyard adjoining is sufficient to stimulate every land owner to clean up. Pride compels him to offer to passersby a neat appearing and attractive house and barnyard. Results are only too obvious.

Q. E. D. Good roads are active disease prevention agencies, aside from their financial and commercial value.

One consideration remains. The advocates of good roads often include in their plans only the main traveled roads. It is known that in most communities from 80 to 90 per cent of the travel is confined to from 10 to 20 per cent of the highway mileage and it is proposed to improve these roads only. But a moment's reflection will make clear the inadequacy of such a plan—that every mile of public highway must be made easy to travel in all kinds of weather and seasons for the effective diffusion of the proposed benefits. Only a small percentage of the people live along the routes of most travel, and doubtless in many cases it would be more advantageous to place the school-house and church off the road to town. And in fact the whole purpose of initiating these new forces will be to divert a large part of the travel to town and make it circulate through the community itself. Of course it would be wise to improve the routes to market first, but the large plan for reconstructing the open country as above outlined will aim at nothing less than the improvement of every mile of public highway.

This may seem to be a plan of impossible proportions, but this country has not felt much over-exertion in building the Panama Canal, and a similar effort would build each year 200 miles of road at $5,000 a mile in every state in the Union. Or we may not realize that our expenditures each year on the army and navy would build 17 Lincoln highways for purposes of comfort and happiness from New York to San Francisco. In view of value received we must be citizens of small vision or patriotism if we are not ready to do our part in making possible, by means of good roads, the reconstruction of the rural life of our nation on such a plan as shall provide the necessary and secure foundation on which to base our future progress.

GARDEN ANTS DO LITTLE HARM REPORTS INDICATE

They do Not Injure Plants and if They Disfigure Lawns They May Be Easily Controlled.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—An unusual number of complaints have been received this year by the Department of Agriculture from persons who say that ants are injuring their lawns and gardens. As a matter of fact, these ants do little harm and the injury that is attributed to them is usually caused by something else. In large numbers, however, the small conical nests which they build on lawns are somewhat unsightly and on this account it may be desirable in some cases to destroy them.

Where there is only a small area to be covered the simplest method is to drench the nests with boiling water. Another simple remedy is to spray the lawn with kerosene emulsion or with a very strong soap wash prepared by dissolving any common laundry soap in water at the rate of 1 pound or 1-2 pound to a gallon of water. Such methods are particularly well adapted to small lawns and for the ordinary life ant.

Far larger ant colonies of other species, bisulphide of carbon, a chemical which can be purchased at any drug store, will be found effective. This substance can be placed in the nest by means of an oil can or small syringe, the quantity required varying from 1-2 ounce for a small nest to 2 or 3 ounces or more for a large one. An oil can with a long spout is a convenient instrument as it can be inserted into the nests and the liquid injected without its being brought close to the operator's nose, for the fumes of bisulphide of carbon although not poisonous, are nauseating. To facilitate the entrance into the nest of the chemical, the ant hole can be enlarged with a sharp stick or iron rod. After the bisulphide of carbon has been injected the opening should be closed by pressure of the foot in order to retain the bisulphide. This will penetrate slowly throughout the underground channels of the nest and kill all the inmates. It is important to remember that while bisulphide is perfectly harmless if kept away from all fire, it is very inflammable and may, under certain circumstances, explode when ignited.

Except for the unsightly appearance of their nests, however, the lawn ants do no appreciable harm. They are frequently noted on roses and on other ornamental and garden plants, and it is naturally supposed that they are doing harm to these. As a matter of fact, it is not the plants that attract the ants, but plant lice. These tiny creatures excrete a sweet liquid of which ants are very fond and which they collect without injuring the plant lice. For this reason plant lice are frequently termed "ant cows." The analogy is emphasized by the fact that ants have been known to take plant lice into their nests, shelter them through the winter, and return them to suitable plants in the spring very much as men are accustomed to feed and shelter cows throughout the winter, putting them on pasture with the coming of the spring. This is the only way in which ants can be said to injure plants. They enter houses very rarely and, on the whole, may be said to do no harm of any kind except in so far as they lessen the attractive appearance of the lawn. On the other hand, it is quite possible that by bringing up from the lower depths sand and earth they may distinctly increase fertility by forming a top dressing or soil mulch, and at the same time permit better aeration of the earth.

ROLL ON, SILVER MOON.
As I strayed from my cot at the close of the day,
Mid the ravishing beauties of June,
'Neath the jessamine shade I espied a fair maid,
And she sadly complained to the moon.

Like the hart on the mountain,
My lover was brave,
So handsome, so manly and clever;
So kind and sincere, and he loved me so dear.

Oh, Edwin, thine equal was never!
His grave I'll seek out until morning appears
And weep o'er my love so brave;
I'll embrace the cold turf and bathe with my tears

The flowers that bloom o'er his grave.
CHORUS.
Roll on, silver moon, guide the traveler on his way,
While the nightingale's song is true;
Oh, I never, never more with my true love shall stray
By the bright silver light of the moon.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WET WEATHER DELAYS HARVESTING; BRINGS UP TURN IN VALUE OF WHEAT

Close of Market Is Steady at a Net Advance—Corn Scores a Big Gain.

Chicago, June 28.—Wet weather delay to harvesting brought about a decided upturn today in the value of wheat. The result was a steady close at 5c to 2 1/2c net advance. Corn showed a net gain of 3/4c to 1/2c; oats finished unchanged to a sixteenth higher and provisions irregular, varying from 2 1/2c decline to a rise of 12 1/2c.

Soaking rains and heavy winds throughout large sections of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri put the wheat bears at a disadvantage from the start. Many traders took the view that in consequence of the storm effects the movement of new wheat would be so much hindered that the main pressure of hedging sales would not be felt in July. The consequence was a persistent buying of options for that month. Every dip in prices led to a widening of demand, with an ensuing fresh advance. Active demand for old wheat to be shipped to the seaboard tended materially to encourage the bulls. Premiums over the July decline rose in some cases fully 2c above the rates current on Saturday. In this connection more attention was given to the falling off in the United States visible supply total and to word that arrivals of spring wheat in the northwest had become unpleasantly small.

Corn, like wheat, was affected by adverse crop news, the result of stormy weather. Despite Argentine offers eastern demand here was fairly active and stocks were steadily continuing to melt.

Hedging sales had a depressing effect on oats. A leading authority intimated that the yield of oats this season might exceed the record crop of 1912.

MISS MAUDE M'GINNIS BECOMES BRIDE OF WILLIAM HEINL

Ceremony Performed Monday Night by Dr. Roswell O. Post at his Residence—Will Live in Newly Furnished Home in South Jacksonville.

The announcement of the marriage of Mr. William Heinl and Miss Maude McGinnis will come as a surprise to their friends this morning. It had been an open secret for several months that the ceremony was to be in the early summer but the exact date had been left in doubt. At eight o'clock Monday night Mr. Heinl and Miss McGinnis, accompanied by the bride's parents, Dr. R. O. Post, were at the simple ceremony which was performed. Members of the household were the legal witnesses and though the ceremony lacked nothing of impressiveness for Dr. Post has long been an intimate friend of the Heinl family.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinl have already begun home life at 1537 South Main street. The house was purchased several months ago by Mr. Heinl from Mrs. Robertson and some extensive improvements have been made and the house handsomely furnished.

Mrs. Heinl is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGinnis of South Main street. She was educated in the Jacksonville schools and has been away from this city the greater part of the time during recent years. She is a young woman of especially attractive personality and character. Mr. Heinl who is the son of Mrs. Joseph Heinl has always lived in Jacksonville. He received his education here and early became identified with the floral and nursery business so long conducted by his father, the late Joseph Heinl. For a number of years he has been at the head of the business, which in a retail and wholesale way is one of large proportions. He ranks as a young business man of exceptional ability. Mr. Heinl and his bride begin their married life under very auspicious circumstances and while they guarded so carefully the date of their wedding day, congratulations will be none the less hearty.

MORTUARY

Green.

James F. Green, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Green of North Main street, died at Passavant hospital Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock following an operation for appendicitis. The deceased was a pupil at Jefferson school and was a member of Central Christian church. The lad had an especially attractive spirit and his sudden going has brought sadness to many hearts.

Deceased was born in Jacksonville February 22, 1906 and practically all his life was spent here. The funeral will be held from the family residence this afternoon at three o'clock with the Rev. Myron L. Pontius in charge.

Fell.

Brief mention was made recently of the death of Mrs. Thomas H. Fell, formerly of this city. A letter received yesterday by Miss Mary Burns from Mrs. Fell's daughter, Mrs. E. R. Haynes, gave further details. Mrs. Fell died at 3:40 o'clock Friday afternoon at Bay View, Mich., where she had gone but a few days before with her daughter in the hope of gaining strength. A sudden attack of illness, affecting her heart, came on during Thursday night and it was realized then that the end was very near.

The remains were taken to Chicago where the funeral was held Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Haynes' home. The services were in charge of Rev. Clyde L. Hay, formerly of this city, and it seemed especially fitting that he should speak the final words over Mrs. Fell's casket as he had known the family so well here and knew how large a place the deceased and her husband held in this community. Mr. Hay referred to Mrs. Fell's going just a few weeks before and spoke of how glad would be the reunion of the husband and wife who had walked so devotedly along life's pathway. Mrs. Fell was buried in Bloomington beside her husband who was recently laid there for the final rest.

LEAVES FOR EAST.

William Deutsch of the firm of Myers Bros. left last night for New York City. From there he will go with a friend by automobile to the White Mountains and in all expects to be away about three weeks.

VISITING RELATIVES HERE.

Geil Fanning is here from Chicago for a visit with relatives. He is employed by the nursery company of Zech and Mann. He will be here two weeks and upon his return home will visit in Springfield and Decatur.

ATTENDED WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ehrie and son, Charles Jr., have returned from a week's visit in Chicago. While there they attended the wedding of Mrs. Ehrie's cousin, Walter Keys, to Miss Elba Peterson, the ceremony taking place last Wednesday evening.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

J. C. Weber, secretary of the Morgan County Poultry Association has sent out notices for a meeting of the association which will be held tonight.

CARD OF THANKS.

I take this means of extending my heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted me during the illness and after the death of my wife, also for the many beautiful flowers.

GREAT METRO SERVICE SECURED FOR MANAGER SCOTT'S THEATER

Splendid Series of Feature Pictures Will Be Shown Tuesday and Wednesday of Each Week.

Manager Scott made an announcement yesterday of great interest to motion picture "fans" that he had closed a contract for the great Metro picture service. This feature service is one of the very greatest yet offered and is the organization which Francis X. Bushman recently joined. The list of stars includes Mrs. Leslie Carter, Olga Petrova, Orrin Johnson and others of equal fame.

It is impracticable to name the whole list here but suffice it to say that the Metro feature service is high class in every particular and the theatre managers the country over who have secured it, have done so for the purpose of securing the best for their patrons.

At Scott's theatre the first Metro pictures will be shown today and hereafter the features will be shown each Tuesday and Wednesday. The Metro service has been appropriately termed the quality service and the name is certainly appropriate when one considers the list of stars the company has secured.

COURT NEWS

COUNTY COURT HEARS TAX OBJECTIONS

In the county court Monday before Judge W. E. Thomson a hearing was had on objections made by the four railroads traversing the county to the taxes assessed against them. The court was in session until five o'clock when adjournment was taken until this morning at nine when the hearing will be continued. The total amount of taxes assessed against the roads to which objections are made is, Chicago & Alton, $4,389.26; C. B. & Q., $2,430.23; Wabash, $1,994.23; C. P. & St. L., $796.24. The objections to the taxes are based mainly upon technical errors and the roads point to certain irregularities, especially with reference to meetings and records of road commissioners. A good many of the witnesses examined are clerks of road districts. Attorneys for the people are State's Attorney Tilton, Judge M. T. Layman, Worthington, Reeve & Green and J. Marshall Miller; and local attorneys for the railroads are Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty and Kirby, Wilson & Brockhouse. At today's session some attorneys from Edwardsville are expected to appear especially on behalf of the C. P. & St. L.

Probate Court.

In the estate of Lelia S. Taylor, the final report was approved. In the estate of John R. Spires, the inventory was approved. In the matter of guardianship of Paul Gilbert, letters of guardianship were ordered to issue to Drusilla Gilbert and bond fixed at $1,000. In the estate of C. H. Easter, the final report was approved. In the estate of Ettie Wells, the amended final report was approved and the estate declared closed. Licenses to marry. U. J. Hagan, Jacksonville; Mrs. Margaret A. Flynn, Jacksonville.

Miss Helen Robinson announces that she expects to be in Jacksonville during the summer months and will be prepared to give lessons in social, esthetic and folk dances. Special summer prices will be offered for private lessons.

WITH THE SICK.

Miss Loretta Harmon of Ehrie Bros' wholesale house, was detained at home Monday by illness.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Degroot of Jey Prairie neighborhood entertained a number of friends at dinner Sunday in honor of their daughter, Miss Tena Degroot, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The day was spent in a pleasant manner with games and music. Among them was a guessing contest in which prizes were won by Mentie Williams and Wilbur Ehrlich. This contest was in charge of Miss Tena Degroot and Miss Cecile Newby. Music was furnished by Miss Rowena Johnson piano, and Joseph Degroot violin.

Those present were: Misses Tena and Nellie Degroot, Cecile Newby, Rowena Johnson, Ruth Sentney, Florence Ehrlich, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, John Brown, Miss Mentie Williams, Wilbur and Ray Ehrlich and Robert Sentney.

EXPECTS LARGE YIELD.

William Batz has a sample sheaf of wheat which was taken from his farm near Prentice and which will be harvested, as the men started several days ago. He has 65 acres and he believes it will average 35 bushels to the acre.

CONCERT AND AUCTION.

Northminster Church Tonight.

At 8 o'clock this evening there will be conducted by the young ladies' mission band at Northminster church a concert by Sunday school classes and followed by an auction of all kinds of things curious and useful. Refreshments will be served. Admission 10 cents.

Rev. C. G. Cantrell of Elderberry and Rev. Mr. Morton will preach Wednesday evening at Shiloh church.

Walk-Over Shoes

WIN THE
GRAND PRIZE
At San Francisco.

Panama-Pacific Exposition judges give the Grand Prize to the Geo. E. Keith Company for WALK-OVER SHOES. This is the HIGHEST POSSIBLE AWARD and the greatest compliment that could be paid to these world-famous shoes, that already have a record of grand prizes awarded at previous expositions both at home and abroad.

We are the local representatives of the manufacturers of this famous brand of footwear that has won, through merit, the confidence of critical people all over the world. Our own windows now hold some of the most popular styles that helped to win at San Francisco over all competitors.

We illustrate a few of them but to know what shoe style and shoe comfort really are you must give us an opportunity to show you our complete line and demonstrate their wonderful fitting qualities.

HOPPER'S

GEORGE SHANK DIES SUDDENLY AT CLAYTON, ILL.

Was a Sister of Mrs. Emma Fenstermaker of This City.—Funeral Will Probably Be Friday.

Mrs. Emma Fenstermaker of 406 South East street, received a telegram Monday morning announcing the death of her brother, George Shank, a prominent resident of Clayton and widely known. Death ensued at 4 o'clock Monday morning of neuralgia of the heart.

Mr. Shank attended Sunday school and church services at the Baptist church Sunday morning. After dinner he took the Baptist pastor, Rev. Mr. Wells, in his rig to fill an appointment at a country church. He complained at this time of feeling ill and proceeded to the home of his brother, Louis Shank, a mile northwest of Clayton. En route Mr. Shank stopped to see a doctor. Mrs. Shank was visiting at the brother's home and when the doctor arrived there, about 6 p. m., he again spoke of feeling ill and grew worse until he died.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Lyle, his aged father, Daniel Shank, three brothers, Henry, Louis, of Clayton, and Oscar, of California, and four sisters, Mrs. Ray Curry and Miss Edna Shank of Clayton, Mrs. Ella Ulmer of Chicago and Mrs. Emma Fenstermaker of Jacksonville.

Since the death of his brother, John, last year, he had been manager of the Missing Link Apple company, operating extensively orchards which shipped fruit all over the world. He was 44 years of age and married Miss Harriet Byrns of Versailles.

He was a member of the Baptist church and a man of considerable means. Because of his sudden death, coronor M. J. Haley held an inquest and the jury returned a verdict of finding death due to heart disease.

GLASSES WERE RETURNED.

Saturday a young man took from the Russell & Lyon jewelry store two gold rings which had been left there for repairs. They were placed in an envelope bearing the card of the house and given the young man to take to the wife of his employer on the line of the Wabash east of the city. He left on the evening accommodation and a total stranger on the train saw him have the rings and the envelope and after the young messenger left the train the stranger saw the envelope lying on the floor. Arriving at Decatur he at once mailed the goods back to Mr. Russell asking him to return them to the rightful owner.

The man is an entire stranger to Mr. Russell but the latter wrote him a letter of hearty appreciation.

"UNDER THE CRESCENT" A GREAT SERIAL AT MAJESTIC.

First of Six Episodes Will Be Given Tonight—"The Purple Iris."

Manager G. M. Luttrell of the Majestic has secured what he believes to be the greatest series of moving picture films ever shown in Jacksonville. This serial picture is "Under the Crescent," and will run on each Tuesday for six weeks. Episode No. 1 will be shown this evening and is entitled "The Purple Iris."

"Under the Crescent" is directed by Burton King. It is founded on actual fact and deals with the life of an American girl, Ola Humphrey, Miss Humphrey is Princess Hassan, the legal wife of the next heir to the throne of Egypt. She tells the story of her love and marriage to the prince, her disillusionment and escape from the harem.

The production has been staged with all the gorgeous magnificence of oriental splendor in settings and costumes. Princess Hassan is featured in the story.

Miss Humphrey was in Paris, where she met Prince Hassan. The prince made love to her with all the ardor of his oriental nature. Miss Humphrey was dazzled and finally capitulated and married the prince. He took her to Egypt and placed her in his harem. She then found that she was only one of many and that she no longer had the freedom that had always been hers in the American mode of living. After many exciting experiences she made her escape from the harem and from Egypt and finally reached this country.

The pictures are said to be among the best ever produced and Manager Luttrell is to be congratulated on securing them for his theater.

THE NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

The new superintendent of the municipal light plant is George F. Stoldt who has been serving there as assistant superintendent or as an engineer for a number of weeks past. Mr. Stoldt is said to be well qualified for the position. Before coming to Jacksonville a number of years ago he was superintendent of plant at Mt. Olive and he has also had electrical training in other lines. Here he has not previously devoted himself to such work although he has at times wired houses for electricity. William Catherwood who leaves the superintendency has filled the position acceptably and during his long term of service has acquired an intimate knowledge of the location of all city wires, poles, etc.

Edward Barker of Helena, Montana was a visitor yesterday with his cousin, John G. Reynolds and other relatives and friends.

NEWTON DAVIS GOES TO POSITION AT ST. CHARLES

Has Been Chief Clerk at Jacksonville State Hospital for Eight Years—Mr. Hoblett His Successor Here.

Newton Davis, who has been chief clerk at Jacksonville state hospital for a number of years past has been notified that he is to be changed to the State School for Boys at St. Charles, July 1. His place is to be taken here by Charles Hoblett, who has been for some time at the Lincoln state school. Just what the change indicates is not known, and while the new position for Mr. Davis has not been ranked as high as the one he has been holding, his official notification states that his salary is to remain the same.

Mr. Davis, since his connection with the Jacksonville state hospital, has maintained his home in Decatur, where his family resides, and he has gone there for occasional visits. This same plan will be followed with his new home, although he will not be as conveniently located for home visits as is now the case. He has been one of the most popular of the attaches at the state hospital with local people and has filled his important post at the hospital for eight years to the satisfaction of the management of the hospital, as well as to the general public.

JUST YESTERDAY MORNING WE RECEIVED ANOTHER SHIPMENT OF ELEGANT WHITE WASH SKIRTS, IN GABERDINE, POPLIN, PIQUE AND PALM BEACH; GREAT VARIETY OF SIZES. ON SALE REASONABLE. J. HERMAN.

BROKE UP KEG PARTY.

Chief of Police Davis and the day force broke up a keg party Sunday and arrested ten men. The men for the most part were old offenders against the law and Monday five of them were sentenced to the county jail for fifteen days. All of them were fined $25 and costs but five of them paid the fine. It is the intention of Commissioner Martin and Chief of Police Davis to break up, if possible, the habit of crowds congregating in barns and other places and drinking. The fine and the fifteen days sentence will compel most of them to remain with Sheriff Graft for the greater part of the summer.

MR. DITTERLINE VERY ILL.

Mrs. Julia Erdley of 267 East College avenue, received a telegram Monday morning stating that her father, G. R. Ditterline, was lying at the point of death at the family home in Temple Hill, Pope county. Mrs. Erdley left on the afternoon train Monday. Her father has attained to the age of 80 years and has been quite feeble for some time.

G. F. STOLDT NOW SUPERINTENDENT OF MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT

Was Named Monday to Succeed W. H. Catherwood—Board of Local Improvements to be Organized Under New Law.

At the Monday session of the city council on motion of Commissioner Vasconcellos, George F. Stoldt was appointed superintendent of the light plant to succeed W. H. Catherwood. The commissioner announced that he would very soon appoint a successor to Mr. Stoldt who has been assistant superintendent for a number of weeks past. There was little to report from any of the departments. Mayor Rodgers stated that the petition from property owners favoring a new pavement on West State street had been completed and a copy had been filed with the council. He mentioned that a new law which was passed by the legislature makes it possible to have the board of local improvements include three members of the council or all of the council instead of having the board composed of the mayor, public engineer and the superintendent of streets. As this law will take effect within a few days, Mayor Rodgers suggested that nothing be done about the petition until the new board of local improvement was organized.

Commissioner Widmayer said it had been possible to pay off some of the city's bills within the last week and that they hoped to have some arrangement made for the payment of other claims. Commissioner Martin reported the purchase of a new horse for the fire department, and that practically all of the safety first signs have been placed in position.

Commissioner Cox said that the heavy rain had caused a good many washouts and that the work of re-grading the unpaved streets would be pushed forward now as rapidly as possible. The work was started yesterday on Mound avenue and will be continued on Lincoln avenue, Webster avenue and Park street. Mayor Rodgers called the attention of the street department to a cave-in north of State street on Webster avenue which needs attention.

Commissioner Vasconcellos nominated George F. Stoldt to succeed W. H. Catherwood as superintendent of the light department and the appointment was confirmed by unanimous vote. Mr. Catherwood has held the position for many years. Mr. Vasconcellos said that there was a greater flow of water now at the north side station than had been true for some time but that there had been occasional shutdowns at the light plant because when the work of cleaning a boiler is in progress there is not sufficient power.

W. D. Doying for the library board stated that it was the hope of the library board that the city could connect with the library building and furnish light from the municipal plant and he said that the annual cost now for light is about $200 and that the finances of the board were such that it would be a great help if the city could furnish this current. Mr. Vasconcellos said that just at present it would not be possible to take on any additional burden because of the uncertainty of just how much surplus there is since the boulevard system was added. He said, as did Mr. Rodgers, that a little later on the council would be glad to give this matter consideration.

W. B. MISER HOME.

Walter B. Miser, general superintendent of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company, has returned from a visit of a week in Duluth and other northern points. Mr. Miser while away visited in Minneapolis and St. Paul. He reports that Minnesota has a great wheat crop, but that owing to the low price of iron ore, business in Duluth is rather dull. He says that in Duluth and Superior the jitney bus business has taken away daily a total of $1,615 in the two towns. He says that the street railway companies of Minnesota have taken the matter before the utility commission and expect a decision in the matter at an early date.

HELP KILL THE MUSKRATS.

The work done a few evenings since at Nichols park in the way of shooting muskrats encourages the commissioners to seek for more and any public spirited person who has a good gun will be welcome to go out any evening and destroy as many of the "varmints" as possible. About sundown till after dusk is the best time and the commission would be glad to have a number of sportsmen go out and try their hands and guns on the rat, of course taking the greatest care not to do bodily harm to any other creature or any persons.

ENJOYED INDOOR PICNIC.

The members of the Philathea Sunday school class of the First Baptist church, taught by Miss Carrie Eppes had contemplated a picnic Monday afternoon at Nichols park, but on account of the rain, held an indoor picnic at the church. After a supper was served, which was greatly enjoyed, a business session was held and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President—Mrs. Lloyd Wells. Vice president—Mrs. Robert Reid. Secretary—Miss Irene Cox. Treasurer—Miss Elnice Martin.
